

2021 Summer Class Online & Real-time College of Social Sciences (Collaborated with University of Nottingham, U.K.)

What's the course name?

Religion in Taiwan: Global and Local Contexts

Who's the instructor?

Professor Scott Pacey

Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Nottingham, UK

When's the course time?

16:00~19:00 (Taipei Time), Mondays and Thursdays between July 12 through July 29.

How many credits will I obtain from fulfilling the requirement?

One credit (The credit will not be obtained until the end of January, 2022)

Who is eligible for the class?

Any master or doctoral student who will be enrolled as a full-time student at NCCU in 2021 fall semester is welcome to sign up for this class.

Can I stay at home and attend it through media?

For this is a real-time online class, students are advised to meet in the classroom(s) designated by IMES during course time, where there will be a teaching assistant helping students with the technical problems.

Information will be sent to those who have completed signing up for the class when time is closer.

How to do and where to go to sign up for the course?

Step 1 Download the application form from <https://bit.ly/3bL5jz2> .

Step 2 Fill in the blanks, sign and scan it into a PDF file.

Step 3 Send it back via email at imes@nccu.edu.tw before July 5 to complete registration.

Who should I contact if I have more questions?

Miss Zhang

Office tel.: 886-2-29393091 Ext. 51278

E-mail address: yujzhang@nccu.edu.tw

Location of IMES office: 12th floor, North Wing, General Building

